Bancroft Roof Project Faces Another Problem

In Nature's Back Yard

In the quiet, rustic setting of the Phillips Academy Bird Sanctuary, George Knipe enjoyed a contemplative smoke Tuesday afternoon during the senior citizens' annual picnic. About 150 seniors from Andover and Lawrence attended the outing which included a barbecue, games, singing and dancing. Other photos on pages 26 and 27.

The problem-plagued Bancroft school roof remains an enigma to the town.

It was scheduled for extensive repair this summer with $196,000 worth of funds provided by town meeting, but only one bid was received on the project, with a total price of $254,000.

With the work well in excess of the appropriation, architects and engineers are now re-examining the plans, which included more extensive repairs than the roof alone, to prepare for rebidding of the project.

School Plant Engineer Al Hart said this week that the appropriation sought at town meeting was not for the roof alone, but for other work in the Bancroft building — essentially repair of damage done by winter storms of the past two years.

Hart said the architects and engineers are now going over the plans for the project to see where the project can possibly be cut back and then put out to bid once again.

As of the moment, the project is in limbo and its status as to completion before school reopens in September somewhat in doubt.

Hart said that if the rebidding can be accomplished and the proposals come in within the money available, then some work can be done inside before school reopens.

But the main project, the roof work, would have to be appraised as to its effect on the school program and safety of the school children.

If the building was of concrete construction, there would be no problem, but its wooden composition presents some difficulties when occupied.

Inside The Haunted House

The Gerwick Puppets will be visiting Andover as part of the Community Service Department's Summer Special Events program on Wednesday July 25. The performance is entitled "Inside the Haunted House" and will begin at 10 a.m. at the Ballardvale Community Center.

"Inside the Haunted House" is a story written by Deborah and Leonard Gerwick which tells of a boy and girl who decide to explore a haunted house. Many strange things await them as they slowly creep into the old mansion. One never knows what lurks in the dark shadows!

This show which lasts one hour is especially geared for school aged children. Younger children may find certain parts of this show to be too scary. Adults are invited to join in the exciting fun of "Inside the Haunted House."

A Gerwick Puppet production is entertainment of elaborate fantasy that carries the minds of the audience into the miniature world of the puppet stage. This performance is presented in fascinating detail using 11 puppets, all hand painted, scenery and music with special lighting and sound effects. The puppets often talk directly to the audience and encourage their response. Soon the children believe the story they are watching is real! This becomes a totally captivating experience for everyone!

Deborah and Lenny Gerwick, whose backgrounds are in Fine Arts, have a tremendous interest in fantasy, drama and comedy. Performing together for over four years, they make all of their puppets and find great satisfaction in inventing unique puppets and props to meet the needs of each new show.

The Gerwicks have performed extensively in the Eastern Massachusetts area for Recreation Departments and all types of organizations and private groups. They have presented special shows for the Massachusetts Audubon Society and are well-known favorite performers at the Children's Museum in Boston.

"Inside the Haunted House" is free to the general public.

School Personnel Reappointed

At last week's school committee session, Stephen Hallee, media technician, was reappointed for the coming school year at a salary of $11,660, while Joseph Balsamo and Maxine Calt werereappointed music accompanists at $12 and $15 a day respectively; and Claus Dengler, community resource coordinator, $18,326.

Renamed parttime learning disabilities tutors were Joan Berenson at West Jr. High, $4982; Ruth Greenbaum, West Elementary, $3322; Eleanor Lustig, West Elementary, $3322; Grace Pettoruto, Bancroft, $5813; and Mary Pitochelli, high school, $4152.

Newly appointed were Charles Croteau of Andover, junior custodian at Sanborn and George A. Ouellette of Lawrence, junior custodian at West Elementary.

Bloodmobile Visit

There are many scarce resources these days because supplies are finite and unreplaceable. Blood, however, is one precious resource which can be shared and is at the same time infinitely replenishable. Summer is a time of particular need for Red Cross blood donors. Each year, under the auspices of the Department of Community Services, the town sponsors a Bloodmobile during the summer which helps meet this continuing need.

This year the Bloodmobile will be held on July 26, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the East Junior High School cafeteria. The focus of this drive is on town employees, who are traditionally given work release time in order to make a blood donation. Of course not all employees are able to give and many are on vacation at this time, so it is vital that this be supplemented by donations from the community at large.

Anyone wishing to donate blood should contact the Department of Community Services at 475-5045 to schedule a time slot between 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. While it is helpful to the Red Cross to have donors scheduled, walk-ins are always welcome.

Raytheon Line Under Construction

Construction of the new sewer line for the Raytheon Company addition in West Andover got underway this week.

Contractors began work last weekend on the new main to service a planned addition to the building which will accommodate transfer of Raytheon operations now handled at the Shawsheen

Mills building, the company's former Andover location.

A special town meeting in December approved funding up to $150,000 for the project. The new line was necessary in order to meet requirements of the addition, plus correction of difficulties in the initial installation ten years ago.

North Reading Tapped Lines In May, June

North Reading was supplied water during May and June by Andover as the neighboring town continues to face supply problems incurred through contaminants in wells.

Andover supplied approximately $3,000 worth of water during May and another $1,300 in June.

North Reading and Andover officials are currently studying a report on the former's water problems and the continued reliance on Andover as a source.

208 Planning On Agenda

Selectmen, at their meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of Memorial Hall library, will discuss the 208 Planning project, a study of water resources in the Merrimack Valley area.

Andover has maintained an opposing attitude toward the planning for cleanup of rivers and watershed areas as mandated by the federal government due to what local officials consider underfunding of the total process.

It is Andover's contention that the planning has been funded at a hundred-thousand-dollar level, when actually in excess of a million-dollars is required to do the job right.

Since it effects the entire valley area and ultimately municipal budget planning, the town feels that any project of this magnitude should be planned properly at the outset, in order to save money later on at the implementation level.

Clark To Head Cable TV Firm

Robert L. Clark, senior vice-president of the Bay State National Bank, has resigned, effective Sept. 1, to become president of New England Cablevision of Massachusetts and a vice-president of New England Cablevision and Home Theater Network. All are subsidiaries of Diversified Communications, Camden, Maine.

Clark will continue his association with Bay State National Bank as he has been elected a member of the bank's board of directors, also effective Sept. 1.

The announcement is made jointly by Russell W. Brace, president of Diversified Communications and Weston L. Bonney, president of Bay State National Bank.

Headquarters for New England Cablevision of Massachusetts will be located in the greater Lawrence area.

Carillon Concert Tuesday

The fourth in the current series of six summer carillon recitals on the 37-bell Samuel Lester Fuller carillon in Memorial Tower, Phillips Academy, will be given Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. The carillonneur will be George Matthew, Jr.

Matthew is carillonneur of the First Presbyterian Church, Stamford, Conn., where he also directs the Carillon Guild, a group which presents daily recitals on the 56-bell Pac-card carillon. Matthew is also director of music at Temple Sinai in Stamford, organist and choirmaster of Grace Episcopal Church in White Plains, N. Y., and a teacher of instrumental music in the Stamford schools. He is a member of the Guild of Carillonneurs in North America.

The public is invited free of charge, to bring blankets, chairs and picnic suppers. Printed programs and descriptive brochures about the carillon are available in the stand at the base of the tower. The best listening area is the lawn opposite the gymnasium between Bulfinch Hall and the tower fence.

The next recital will be given Tuesday, July 31, at 7 p.m. The recitalist will be Edward B. Gammons of Andover.

Garden Notes

Many calls have been received at the Agricultural Institute in Hathorne related to the present drought and the proper use of water for lawns, flower and vegetable gardens, and other plants. To assist area residents a bulletin entitled "Using Water Efficiently On Outdoor Plantings" is available free on request.

Another 24-page bulletin entitled "Home Vegetable Garden Pest Control Recommendations" is also available to help the home gardener. Send your request to Extension Editor, Essex Agricultural & Technical Institute, Hathorne, Ma 01937.

Abramson Elected To Group

James L. Abramson, Capital Distributing Co., Inc., Andover, has been elected to membership in the Young Presidents' Organization, Inc. (YPO), a worldwide educational association of more than 3,300 successful young chief executives who have become presidents of sizable companies before the age of 40.

The purpose of YPO, since it was founded in 1950, has been to help its members become better presidents through education and idea exchange. Members (YPOers) learn from each other and from an extensive range of experts during the year-round schedule of local meetings, seminars, area conferences and universities.

The nucleus of YPO is the local chapter unit. Most of the more than 70 chapters, located in the United States and in 45 countries throughout the world, hold monthly member-run meetings, generally open to spouses.

The twice-yearly YPO universities for presidents are week-long assemblies that feature classroom sessions and informal dialogue between members and a distinguished faculty of 40 or more internationally recognized authorities. At universities and other conferences, the faculty and members explore business (management, finance, business ethics), government, world affairs and self-improvement topics (the humanities, fine arts, psychology and education).

YPOers head a variety of businesses in manufacturing, retailing, wholesaling, the service industry, finance and construction. The typical firm employs over 300 persons and grosses more than $15 million annually.

General Transit Aid On Agenda

Greater Lawrence businessmen and government officials are scheduled to meet today to set the agenda for a conference next Thursday on how to reduce the amount of gasoline workers use to get to and from their jobs.

Members of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark, a Merrimack Valley Regional Transportation Authority official and representatives of area industries will discuss the possibility of using car and van pooling and public buses to reduce the number of private vehicles used for transportation to and from work.

Representatives of Sen. Paul Tsongas and Congressmen James Shannon and Nicholas Mavroules are also expected to attend.

"It's the kind of project you can't generate in a crisis environment," Clark said. He said the plan might be ready by the fall, in time to have an effect on any winter gasoline shortages.

Clark said he has been interested in developing a plan to reduce gasoline consumption for about a month, since he "had to sit in a gas line for half an hour." CETA staff aid Niel McCann was assigned to study the problem and possible solutions.

Clark said he met two weeks ago with representatives of "major industries in the area." These included Western Electric, Raytheon, and Gillette. The town manager of Methuen also attended, he said.

The first step toward the plan, according to Clark, is to determine if employers and employees are interested in participating. If they are, then the exploration of possible car pooling and additional bus routes can begin.

William Schultz of the MVRTA, called the problem of scheduling new bus routes "ominous." It would involve determining how many persons would participate and the hours they worked, and then adding vehicles or changing routes.

If the industry employees in Andover alone joined such a program, 20,000 persons would have to be accommodated, according to a figure quoted by Clark.

The conference is being organized on a "step by step, logical basis," by the interested groups, Schultz said. "They realize that they may be not only the problem, but may be a part of the solution, too."

He said they seem willing to first define the problems, decide which ones they can do something about, and then work toward solving them.

Schultz said that when he first heard about the conference, he thought the participants were looking for someone else to solve their problems. Now, though, he said he is convinced the members are willing to work to help themselves.

Town To Get Full Allotment

The Federal Energy Office and Gulf Oil have assured Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark that Andover will get 100 percent of last year's gasoline allotment.

The guarantee applies directly to fuel for emergency vehicles, but may extend to other town cars and trucks, Clark said.

However, he stressed that even though the gasoline is available, the town still has the obligation to try to reduce gas consumption.

With gasoline prices up 17 percent in the last three months, there will not be enough money budgeted to purchase as much gasoline as last year, Clark noted.

Concerts At Shell Continue

The Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestra will continue Arthur Fieldler's tradition of free concerts on the Charles River Esplanade with a full week of performances, beginning Sunday, July 22 at 8:30 p.m. They will continue at the Hatch Shell, on Tuesday, July 22 through Sunday, July 29, also at 8:30 p.m.

Harry Ellis Dickson, the Boston Pops Assistant Conductor and the founder of the Boston Symphony's Youth concerts program will conduct. On Thursday, July 26 at 10:15 a.m., he will conduct a special young people's concert featuring the William Tell Overture and Mozart's 21st Piano Concerto.

These free concerts are enjoyed by hundreds of thousands of people each year and are made possible by the contributions of various New England business firms. A listing of the names reads like "Who's Who in New England Industry."

Information on the programs to be performed can be obtained by dialing C-O-N-C-E-R-T.

Recycling Program Progressing

By Virginia Cole

Andover's recycling program "under new management" has been going for over two weeks now. Paper and glass have been missed here and there; two trucks have broken down and there have been annoyed people who found out we can't take cans anymore.

The good parts are that everyone has been very cheerful and optimistic; the trucks were fixed or replaced quickly; notices were put in bags of mixed glass and cans after Monday to help people understand the new rules and if calls were made to the Town Hall (475-5864) the missed glass was picked up on Thursday.

Two important points for this week; call one of the following numbers if you have been missed — 475-5922, 475-4871, 475-5253, 475-5864. Then leave your paper or glass and it will be picked up. If you don't call, we don't know you've been missed. This is a new contractor — all the trucks are bright red and say Miller Disposal on them — and the driver is still learning the streets.

Second point — we can no longer pick up cans because we can't sell them. There is a market in New Jersey we understand but we don't have a way to get them there that we can afford.

If you possibly can save your aluminum cans, do so. Some cans say aluminum on them; they have rounded bottoms and the real test is with your child's magnet. Aluminum cannot be picked up by a magnet. Andover Recycling plans to have an aluminum drive in early fall. Watch your paper for times and places.

Next week is colored glass — green and brown. Please put green in one bag and brown in a second bag and put them at the curb on the opposite side from where you put your trash. This way both the recycling contractor and the rubbish man can easily see which is his. We will pick up green and brown mixed this week, but no cans. The reason for separating them is to have the option of a higher price in the future.

Andover Recycling will be hand delivering a calendar and recycling and rubbish

Rail Service Study Is On Siding

A Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVRTA) application for $1.2 million to improve commuter rail service tracks is not scheduled for review until November, according to MVRTA director William Schultz.

A quick review had been expected, Schultz said, but the application received a low priority among others to be considered by the Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA).

The three-man UMTA regional staff has to consider applications from 20 transit authorities, and there are two categories of grants which take precedent over the kind filed by the MVRTA. Review of the MVRTA application is delayed at least until the beginning of the federal fiscal year, Oct. 1, according to Schultz.

The funds would be used to improve the Metropolitan Boston Transit Authority tracks from Boston to Haverhill, a recently approved commuter rail route.

Schultz said there is hope the application priority can be improved by negotiations with UMTA policy makers in Washington. The November review time was set by the regional staff.

Work on the tracks is expected to take three to four months, Schultz said.

Stickers Aimed At Vandals

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark has started a bumper sticker campaign against vandalism.

Five hundred "Vandalism is a Waste" stickers have been ordered and should be available free in the town hall later this week.

The stickers cost $70, and were billed to the community services department budget.

Clark said the campaign is in response to vandalism in town which he estimated costs the community $1 million a year. This includes smashed mailboxes, broken windows, and lawns that are gouged by automobile tires.

Clark said the vandalism would be difficult to stop because of the unpredictable nature of the crimes and because of a police shortage. The population of Andover has increased by 10,000 in the last ten years, Clark said, while the size of the police force has not changed.

Clark said that if the vandals realized the cost of the town of their actions, the vandalism rate might decline. "These aren't vandals from Lawrence coming in," he said.

Last week's pollution of a three million gallon water storage tank by vandals cost the town between $8,000 and $10,000, Clark said. The tank had to be emptied, filled, chlorinated, emptied again, refilled and tested before it could be put back into use again.

Pumps which could have been shut off at night if the tank was usable had to run all night, with men being paid overtime running them.

Policemen working extra shifts are now guarding the tank, Clark said, in an effort to prevent similar vandalism from happening again.

The Sanborn School summer pre-school playground classes worked for a week and a half making paper war bonnets, coffee can tom-toms and wooden wampum beads. Last week, they

At The Playgrounds

Doherty

A busy week at Doherty started with a scavenger hunt. The items were scattered all over Playstead. The first three couples to find all of the items were: Candice Kirkeles and Sharon Campagne, Terry Julians and Sherry Pynn, Ryan McManus and Kieren McManus.

The high scorers this week is street hockey week were: Clyde Murphy, Robbie Carpentier, Scott DeGregorio and Barry Commers. The overtime goal was scored by Scott DeGregorio on Wednesday. Super saves by Kurt Buccato, Ryan Murphy and Danny Moynihan highlighted the play by the goaltenders.

Dead Dog winners were Stanley Freitas and Michael Gerrior this week.

The highlight of the week was 50's Day. The following were winners of the look alike contests: Fonz — Justin Fox; Richie — Ryan McManus; Ralph — Jeff Shapiro; Sha-na-na — Vin "Macho" Ficrers; The Gang — Brian Page, Joey Hastings, Bill Batcher, Jason Fox, Steve Kessler, Aaron McConkey; Potise — Robbie Carpentier; Big Al — Robert Manning; High School Hoods — Scott DeGregorio, Greg Kinsky, Stan Freitas; Laverne — Jane Billings; Shirley — Julie Buck; Arnold's Girls — Sharon Hastings, Sharon Campagna.

Melissa Kirkiles; Fonz Girl Friends — Amy Buck, Candy Kirkiles and finally Sherry Pynn as Joannie.

Shawsheen

The third week of playground was the hottest week yet; the sun blazed every day and the children were busy with new activities. Monday's heat forced everyone into the shade where a variety of entertainment was performed in sharades. Mike Mercier proved to be the best at communicating without words while Joey Sirois portrayed superman with ingenuity and fun. The beginning of the week was also celebrated with the creating of Grass Seed Heads: Each planter will give the grass a hair-cut later in the summer.

Tuesday and Wednesday were filled with exciting indoor games since they were our first days in the gym. The last survivors of the mornings Shipwreck were Devon Arsenault and Matthew Zipeto. Once the wreckage was cleared, Bombardment and an obstacle course followed suit. Matt Zipeto again topped the playground with his time of 38 seconds running the obstacle course. The girls on the playground displayed their agility and determination by taking second (Ann Marie Charland) third (Sharon Petzold) fourth (Peeny Starks) and fifth (Nancy Howard) all within six seconds of Matt. Mary Ellen Driscoll inspired the other contenders with her determination and perserverance.

Wednesday also produced a collage depicting what "Shawsheen is ..." to all the children. Some of the words that Circle Tage became a big hit on Thursday since watching for Skylab a day late was unrewarding. No one even needed to make the silver Skylab helmets planned for earlier.

July 13th was transformed into Black Friday at Shawsheen. Black magic pictures were made with an excess of black paint in the spirit of the day. Bobbing for apples cooled many red faces and started a refreshing water splash. The costume contest highlighted the morning. A judge was brought in from out of the Shawsheen area to determine the fair winners. He chose between dwarfs, pirates, Little Red Riding Hood, a ballerina, a decrepit old judge, Susan B. Anthony, a minuteman, gypsies, a princess, and a hobo. Best looking boy was awarded to Matt Zipeto and Jeff Hamilton; best looking girl was captured by Elizabeth Carew; Most original was won by the creative Bea Rose; Best all around fitted the plump dwarf Petzolds; most unique went to the one and only Beth Deacon; and the most far out costume went to the Freak, Janice Moody.

South

The highlight of South this week was our bubble gum blowing contest. Winners were Philip Meckel in first along with Kathleen Radulski, Jason Bruno, Karen Romito and Karen Saalfrank. Biggest Bubble overall was won by Jimmy Ward. Tuesday we took a walk to Poms where we enjoyed some great swimming and caught a few rays. Wednesday we looked for skylab but just when we thought we spotted it, we found out it had landed. We are getting all excited for our Halloween Party next Tuesday. So if you are in the area stop in for a whale of a time! Speaking of whale, we are also getting ready for an exciting trip to Gloucester for the Adventure Tour.

Ballardvale

We had another hot but exciting week in Ballardvale. Monday was devoted to Christmas tree decorating, made out of ice cream cones covered with frosting, jelly beans, and jimmies. Shannon Cassidy, Ann Murmane, Cathy Guiliane and Patrick Timmons consumed more trees than anyone else. Tuesday we went on a hike to the Dairy. For some it was a long walk, but all voted it was worth it. Shannon Cassidy was determined to swim with the ducks, but we persuaded her not to.

Everybody enjoyed the magic show on Wednesday. Cathy and Angie Giuliani, and Craig Milligan especially liked the disappearing bunny act.

Indian Princess

Christine Deranian, 4, came well equipped to the pre-school playground program pow-wow. She and her fellow Indians made their own war bonnets, Indian drums and necklaces. The apple was extra. Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Souran Deranian, 1 Dean Circle.

Thursday was a special treat for B'vale as we made homemade peppermint stick ice cream. Tina Sutton, Vernoica Croke, and Ann Murnane were the main manpower behind the crank. Henry Prussman tried to sneak thirds but to no avail.

During Friday's hot weather most of the kids went to Pomp's Pond. Our star swimmers were Richie Meyers, Keely Conley, and Amy Smith. On our return to the playground our weekly cook-out was already in progress. All and all it was a good week.

Operation Identification

Memorial Hall Library's engraving pen will mark steel, glass, plastic, wood or any other hard surface. Patron's may borrow this tool for one week to mark their valuables with their own I.D. number. This effort acts as a direct deterrent to theft because stolen items bearing etched I.D. numbers are more difficult to sell and are more easily recovered. A new pamphlet containing instructions for marking and space for a homeowner's inventory is now available in the Main Reading Room. Protect your own property and reduce criminal opportunity by marking your valuables today.

Ballardvale Summer Programs

Ruth Sharpe, Ballardvale Librarian, reports there is still time to participate in the Ballardvale Summer Reading Programs. The Junior contest for children in grades 1-6 will conclude with a special awards program on August 30. Many new paperbacks have been added to the Ballardvale collection for the Young Adult Contest (for Jr. and Sr. High School students). Reading lists and information on both programs and prizes are available at the Ballardvale Branch.

Daily Chores

Among the daily tasks of department of public works employees is the cleaning up of litter in Central Park. Despite the availability of barrels for discarding papers, bottles and other debris, the park is littered almost nightly, often looking worse than this until the DPW crews can get at the task in the morning.

Mrs. Jay P. Knapp

Knapp - Hemsworth

Laurie E. Hemsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Hemsworth, 5 Shepley St., Andover, became the bride June 23 of Jay P. Knapp. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knapp of Amesbury.

The Rev. Jack Daniels, Jr., officiated at the 11 a.m. service at the Free Christian Church, Andover, and a reception followed at the Andover Country Club.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of chiffonette with a Queen Ann neckline and long fitted sleeves, ruffled at the wrist. Appliques of Venice lace enhanced the empire bodice and sleeves, and the A-line skirt, which was bordered with a deep flounce and terminated in an attached chapel train.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and greens.

Mrs. Barbara Knapp attended as her matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Camille Hemsworth, Mrs. Susan Hemsworth, Lyn Leone and Joyce Bedard. Jennifer Hemsworth and Erica Knapp were flower girls, and Robert W. Hemsworth and Lindsey Knapp were ring bearers.

Lee and Jeff Knapp both served as best man for their brother, and ushers were William and Kenneth Hemsworth, and Raymond Cammett.

The new Mrs. Knapp is a graduate of Andover High School and the University of Lowell, and is employed by I. R. Lebel, CPA, as a staff accountant.

Her husband graduated from Amesbury High School and Salem State College, and is employed by Larry's Marina as assistant yard manager.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple is making their home in Salisbury.

Beets Are Plentiful In July

July is the peak month for fresh native beets, and the season will last through October.

Most all Massachusetts grown beets are sold "bunched," so be sure to enjoy both the tender green tops as well as the more familiar deep red root, suggests the Massachusetts Food and Agriculture Department.

The major local variety, the flat-topped Egyptian beet, was first grown around Boston about 1869. Beets are a member of the same family as Swiss chard and were first cultivated during the third century in Mediterranean countries.

When buying beets, choose those that are round, smooth and firm with a deep red color and a slender tap root. Very large beets tend to be woody and fibrous and may not become tender even after long cooking. Fresh green tops also indicate good quality beets.

To store beets, cut off all but a couple inches of green tops, place in plastic bags and refrigerate; use within one or two weeks. Wash and drain the greens well, refrigerate and use within three to five days.

Beets will retain their color best when cooked unpeeled with roots and a couple of inches of green tops intact. Boil beets about 30 to 45 minutes (or longer if not fresh young beets). Peel after cooking and serve either hot with butter and seasonings or an orange sauce — or cold, sliced and pickled, in salads, gelatin molds or open-face Danish style sandwiches. Russian borscht is a soup made with beets, and usually shredded cabbage served either hot or cold with a dollop of sour cream.

Beets greens are cooked in the same way as spinach — steamed in just the water clinging to them. They can also be used raw in a salad tossed with lettuces, cucumbers and onions.

A one-cup serving of cooked, sliced beets supplies 54 calories and about 15 percent of the U. S. Recommended Daily Allowance for vitamin C. Beet greens are equally low in calories — one cup cooked has 26 calories and provides 150 percent of the "RDA" for vitamin A.

New Litter Law Now In Effect

Commissioner Dean P. Amidon of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works today advised motorists that changes in the penalty for the illegal disposal of rubbish along or within twenty yards of a public highway took effect Wednesday, July 18.

The major change is the revision of the monetary penalty from "... a fine of not more than two hundred dollars. . .," to, "... a fine of not more than one thousand dollars and not less than two hundred dollars. . ."

In addition to the illegal dumping of rubbish along a public highway or within twenty yards, the new regulation includes any other public land, or in or upon coastal or inland waters or within twenty yards of any such water, or on the property of another, will be subject to the new fine as set forth in House Bill 5661.

Commissioner Amidon emphasized the cost of litter has been increasing and that the Mass DPW is spending over one million dollars a year for the cleanup of litter just along our state highway system. He stated that the Department hopes the increased fine, coupled with proper law enforcement of the statute, will deter and decrease some of the illegal dumping of rubbish. He added any reduction in the volume of illegal rubbish will be a plus both environmentally and economically for the Commonwealth.

Strangely enough, we really don't live forever.

Wouldn't it be nice if we could, though? We might eliminate a lot of anxiety and responsibility. Things like providing for the family, getting the children through college. Or maybe, how we can pay off a mortgage or buy out a business partner.

Since we don't know how many years we'll get, doesn't it make sense to protect the important things in life right now?

It is for all children entering the first grade, through to those who have completed the fourth grade.

South Church will be sponsoring two of these "experiences" this summer in two different locations. The first is located in the backyard of Nancy Larsen at 53 Birch Road, July 23 to 27, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The second is in Sherry Tupper's backyard at 3 Marie Drive, Aug. 13 to 17, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Reservations are being accepted now for both sessions. Those interested in signing up a child for the July session may contact Nancy Larsen for the August session, Sherry Tupper. All children are welcome even if they are not specifically in either neighborhood.

This program is the first of its type to be held by South Church. Michelle Auger, the summer intern from Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary, will be coordinating the sessions in conjunction with the Christian Education Board and other members of South Church. Anyone in the community may take advantage of the program.

Andover firefighters had a battle on their hands late Friday afternoon, with a smoky fire at American Power Devices Co., on Andover street. In addition to battling the smoke from a defective plating machine in the building, the heat and humidity, worst of the summer, made the firefighting process a difficult one. Medium damage was reported, with a partition near the machine also on fire. School Board Rejects Two Year Junior High

ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

JULY 19, 1979

By Linda S. Corbett

The Andover School Committee has reaffirmed its stand for two separate junior high schools, and for the first time has voted unanimously against a two-year junior high.

These and other philosophies will be presented to the school building committee tonight, to aid in their school facilities study and the consideration of a possible change in the current grade configuration plan.

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann said this week that both her board and the administration oppose a two-year junior high school. She said the instability of the early teens and the instability of a two-year school would serve as counter-irritants, and make the overall situation very difficult. At that age, she said, youths need a stable school environment.

Committeeman John Eaton, who has looked favorably upon a possible 6-2-4 set-up since his election campaign last spring, has also been won over to his colleagues' thinking on the issue.

While one junior high could still be at the Shawsheen Road complex, Mrs. Viehmann said the school committee will be asking for a second junior high in another part of town. She said they have "strong reservations" about lumping 1300 junior high pupils in one location.

Responding to a question from Virginia Cole of the building committee, about the effect of moving 9th graders up into high school, the committee has replied that "ninth graders are really high school students no matter where they are located."

Mrs. Viehmann said that they are departmentalized, like the high school, and receive high school credit for their work.

As for the possible move of fifth and sixth graders into a middle school, Mrs. Viehmann said their programs would continue basically as they are now, departmentalized for specialized subjects and enrichment activities. Otherwise they would stay pretty much as class units. The seventh and eighth graders would remain departmentalized throughout their program.

One advantage to the middle school, she added, is that a few advanced fifth and sixth graders could take courses with the older students, while seventh and eighth graders who have the most difficulty would have lower options available to them.

The committee has further stated their intent to continue to provide the same educational programs as presently offered

"regardless of the grade arrangements decided upon." They said they don't contemplate major changes in program or teaching philosophy. However, since "program and method are continually evolving," they are encouraging the building committee to plan for flexibility and a variety of spaces, "and to remember that it is impossible to guess in 1979 what kinds of spaces will be needed in 1989, 1999 or 2009."

In answer to other questions put to them recently by the building committee, the school board responded as follows:

Auditorium

They said yes, they feel an entire student body should be able to meet together as a school unit to hear messages from the administration, as well as for such adjunct uses as debates, outside speakers and musical and theatrical productions. Mrs. Viehmann said they also feel it's important to bring the students together to build a sense of student body — an area of particular concern at the high school.

She said that while each elementary school already has an area where they can gather, the school committee feels it was the vote of town meeting to plan for a high school auditorium large enough to hold the entire student body.

The committee turned the question of need for an auditorium in each junior high back to the building committee, asking them in turn to show how it would be possible for the two to share an auditorium and still be able to have their own all-school meetings, speakers and the like.

She said both the high school and West Jr. High have been quite limited in their auditorium usage, because they have shared the latter's facility.

Voke School

The building group had also asked how much of a vocational program needs to be provided by Andover schools, and how much could be addressed by the Voke School.

Mrs. Viehmann emphasized this week that a "complete high school" automatically has courses in practical arts that produce lifetime skills. In fact, she said, accreditors look for a variety of vocational courses and Andover's new diploma requirements provide that a student should demonstrate a marketable skill.

Furthermore, she said, the Voke School is restricted in that youths must enter at the ninth grade "or not at all." It's not available to the student who would just like to give a vocational area "a try."

Decision Due Soon On No. Reading Aid

By Tim Greene

Andover selectmen are scheduled to decide whether they will sign a long-term water contract with North Reading by Aug. 2.

A report which will help them make that decision is completed and awaiting the review of Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark and DPW Director Robert McQuade. Once they have read the report, they will make recommendations to the board of selectmen about what action to take.

Clark said he is looking for four factors in the North Reading report.

- What work has been done to make North Reading self-sufficient.

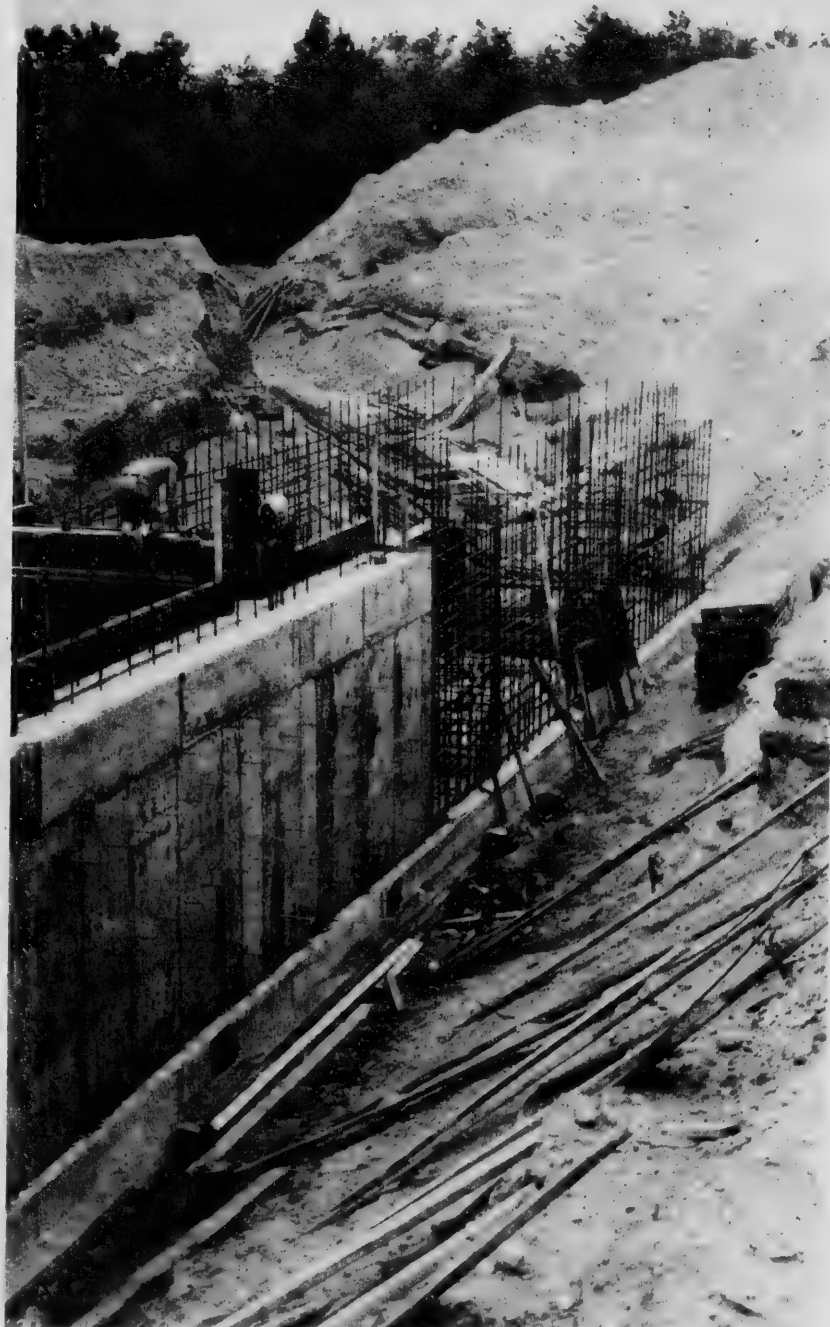

- What options have been explored by North Reading.

- How feasible are those options.

- What are the legal constraints on Andover if it agrees to supply water to North Reading long term.

North Reading lost three of its five wells to contaminants by April 1979 and had to be supplied daily with water from Andover. Selectmen at that time agreed to

At the Senior Citizens Picnic at the Phillips' Academy Bird Sanctuary Monday, activities lasted from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Clockwise from above: Irene Jones calls bingo numbers; Mildred Wright throws horse shoes; Haven members concentrate on the Bingo game; Ezra Berensen eats lunch in the shade; Christopher Muller plays lawn darts; and a Haven group line-dances to the music of "The Village People."

A Glance At The Schools

Last week's school committee meeting was hardly a midsummer exercise to make sure everything was well at the store.

The board handled some rather important business during their session, and of course, remain aware of their responsibilities with regard to the school building program, meeting again on Thursday night with the building committee.

But for their own agenda, we would like to comment on the move to re-examine the position on dropping the school physician post.

The board has decided to look into its actions which were based on the need for austerity and to make budget cuts this year. In the process the $6,000 annual stipend for a school physician was clipped from the annual educational expenses.

With the austerity program and the budget which voters finally awarded to the school department, the townspeople may well be finding other things cut from the public school program when classes commence again in September.

But, our feeling is that the school physician post should not be one of the deletions.

We would go along with having the routine physicals given athletes at the start of the season paid for by parents. After all, a considerable amount of money is expended annually to maintain the interscholastic and intramural sports programs in the schools, what with equipment and transportation among the more costly items.

But there is a definite need for the availability of a doctor to the school system for a variety of needs, not the least of which is the necessity for his professional services in dealing some Chapter 766 programs.

There are other problems of a medical nature which occur during the course of the school year, and in some cases, possibly very few in Andover, there is the need for a child to just have a routine checkup, which may not be possible due to personal or family problems.

The stipend of $6,000 per year is hardly compensatory — it probably represents more a retainer than anything else.

That not having a school physician could represent a violation of state law isn't really the main concern. It would seem that the proper consideration should be the need to have available, in the public schools, some professional medical assistance.

The Vacancy

On another matter, the committee and the selectmen considered some guidelines for the appointment of a person to fill the vacancy created by Committeeman Casimir Kolaski's resignation.

Some of them seem absurd, such as, thinking about prohibiting an appointee from running for election to maintain the school committee post at the next election. Also, a residency requirement which would stipulate that the appointee have been a resident here for at least three years. Another deals with whether the candidate had children in the school system or not.

We haven't witnessed the town's electorate demanding such qualifications of a school committee member in the general elections, so why should nine people — five selectmen and four school committee members who will choose Kolaski's successor — suddenly become more expert and demanding?

Best method is to review the applications, interview the candidates and make the decision, minus all the prerequisites and guidelines.

The Policies

The committee also set some definitive and stringent policies with regard to drugs and alcohol in the school system.

The policies set down in writing what can be anticipated by students who are found to be in violation of the policies, along with a pledge of co-operation with law enforcement officials when and where necessary.

The establishment of the firm directions should point out to students and parents alike that the intent of the school administration is to provide a proper educational climate. For those who feel otherwise, the consequences are clear.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July 1904

George S. Cole will sell the standing grass on about three acres of land belonging to the late Dennis Collins on the line of the old railroad, at auction, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on lots to suit purchasers.

Harland W. Whipple of this town, president of the American Automobile Association, has been attendance at the hill climbing contest at Mt. Washington during the past week. He intends to "try the hill" before returning to Andover.

Beginning next Monday evening, weather permitting there will be an open air exhibit of moving pictures and advertising at the rear of the Musgrove building. The pictures will be given by Col. C. L. Saunders and son and will consist of war scenes in the Philippines taken by Col. Saunders and others.

An insane woman was found by Selectman B. Frank Smith in his grove at Haggetts Pond Wednesday morning. She said she had walked a long distance and that she wished to go to Boston. Mr. Smith notified Chief of Police Frye who removed her to Tewksbury where it was found she had escaped with another inmate Tuesday.

The latter was captured and taken back the same day.

Work has been begun on a house for Newton Jaquith, Jr., on his lot on Whittier Street.

50 Years Ago — July 1929

Bids for the Construction of Main Street were opened Tuesday noon at the office of the director of public works in Boston. It was expected that the award of contract would be made known before this time, but up until press time, no announcement had been forthcoming. Of the contractors submitting bids, P. J. Holland of Lawrence had the lowest bid of $120,343.00, informal.

The field day of camp Andover, held at Pumps Pond, Saturday, drew a large attendance of visitors from Greater Boston, and Dorchester, girls cleaned up the events, practically all the field and water sports.

In order that persons, desiring the services of the Town officers, may become accustomed to entering the main door of the Town house, a directory sign is being placed near the front entrance with the names and numbers of the rooms in which the Town officers may be found. This will eliminate in a large measure the passing through the town Clerk's office for those who wish to reach the other offices.

Miss Jessie Campbell of Punchard Avenue sailed last Friday on the steamship Scythia for a three months tour abroad.

25 Years Ago — July 1954

Operating under ideal weather conditions, the town's playgrounds with their varied activities continue to draw large groups of youngsters. Some recent attendance figures show that last week Indian Ridge had 125, Ballardvale 142 and Shawsheen 141.

The American Woolen Company regains its place this year at the top of the list of the town's heaviest taxpayers with a real estate assessment of $55,144.55.

Contracts for a traffic control system and a traffic tower in the square were awarded by the selectmen at their bi-weekly meeting Monday night. The contracts were awarded to P. I. Gaudet who bid $1154 for the tower and R. W. LeBaron, Inc., who bid $7890 for the traffic control system.

The Recreation Department announced that beginning Monday, July 19, the children who attend morning swimming classes at Pomp's will make the return trip to Elm Square and Shawsheen Square at 12:30 p.m.

At last week's meeting with Supt. Edward I. Erickson and headmaster Lindsay J. Marsh, the school committee had a plan proposed by the school building committee for a new high school to be erected just east of Whittier Court and North of Rogers Brook. The school committee agreed it did not like the location.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Nixon Wants to Ignore Press
In His Well-Paid Retirement

WASHINGTON -- One day, historians will trace the origins and growth of the hate affair between Richard Nixon and elements of the press. But meanwhile, Nixon has settled the stormy relationship simply by ending it. The former president has apparently decided that no one from his staff will talk to reporters anymore.

For four decades, Nixon has used the press, abused the press and been abused by the press. He tried to cut off relations with newsmen once before. In 1962, he lost the governorship of California and called his infamous "last press conference" to excoriate the reporters who were covering his campaign. He told them they wouldn't have Nixon to kick around anymore.

But he made a comeback against the odds. He reached the White House, with the conviction that he had gotten there by circumventing the working press. The way to stay in power, he decided, was to keep the press at bay.

Reporters were given comfortable accommodations, fed with daily trivialities and occupied with diversions. But they were kept away from the news. He did not want the acts and policies of his administration to reach the people through what he considered the distorting prism of the press.

In seeking to contain reporters and to shut off the leaks, Nixon and his associates committed first the blunders and then the crimes that produced the greatest political scandal in American history -- Watergate.

Now Nixon is living in seclusion, supported by the taxpayers who contribute $300,000 a year to his welfare. He should be accountable to the taxpayers, therefore, for how he spends their money.

But he has no intention of answering any more press inquiries. The secretary who answered the phone at San Clemente told us the staff is too busy and the budget too tight to deal with the press. She complained that Congress doesn't give Nixon enough money.

Kudos for Carter: White House press secretary Jody Powell recently suggested that Washington, D.C. deserved long gas lines. "No place should have a longer gas line than Washington," he said.

That angered us. So we instructed our reporters to investigate whether White House aides have to wait in those frustrating lines like the rest of us. We expected to learn that they are chauffeured to and from work and that they get special gas allotments for their private cars.

Our suspicions were wrong. We found that the only aide who travels by chauffeured limousine is National Security Adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski. The other aides drive their own cars.

Our White House contacts said that Jody Powell and other presidential aides sat in the gas lines waiting their turn -- unless they could persuade their wives, husbands or kids to do it for them.

Many of the White House employees have Georgia license plates; technically, therefore, they do not have to observe the Washington area's "odd-even" gasoline plan. They are entitled to fill up any day of the week. But we were told they voluntarily adhere to the plan.

The White House motor pool also has a new look. The cars are all six-cylinder Dodges and Buicks. They average 19 miles to the gallon, and they are driven on official business only. The drivers carefully log every trip to prevent abuse.

Of course, the gasoline allocation rules don't apply to the White House motor pool. But our reporters talked to the military people who run it. They say gasoline usage is down.

Last year, the White House burned an average of 2,485 gallons a month. This year, they have cut back to 2,394 gallons -- a savings of nearly a hundred gallons a month.

Postal Defector: The Reader's Digest, an American institution for 57 years, has become disaffected with another American institution -- the Postal Service. Because of skyrocketing mailing costs and declining services, Digest officials are shopping around for a cheaper way to reach readers. They have already contracted with several private companies to deliver a small percentage of their magazines, and they are looking to shave mailing costs even more. Currently, the magazine's circulation bosses told us, they spend 16 cents of every dollar they earn on delivery of their products to customers.

Kennedy Campaign: Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., says he is not running for the presidency in 1980, but his supporters are preparing for a race, anyway. The Machinists Union has purchased $10,000 worth of campaign buttons, which have been distributed to politicians who have declared their support for Kennedy. In Washington, there aren't enough buttons to go around. So Rep. Ed Beard, D-R.I., is coping with the problem by pasting Kennedy photos on the buttons of other political candidates.

Headlines and Footnotes: Observers who heard Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger testify at a recent anti-trust hearing are wondering where he has been for the past year or so. He referred to the cost of a loaf of bread which, he said, is less than 40 cents ... An energy conservation law, which was passed four years ago, requires federal officials to set standards for energy efficiency in government buildings. The standards still haven't been set.

MAKING A SMALL ROOM
LOOK BIGGER

There are many ways that you can use the right furniture and the right decorating ideas to make any smaller room seem bigger.

We're going to list for you some of the ways of achieving it.

1. Use some more light colors. Light colors make a room look larger while many dark colors make it contract.

2. Use such things as two smaller pieces for one bigger one; for example, two smaller tables instead of one extra large one.

3. Use mirrors; mirrors give the illusion of adding space.

4. If you buy furniture or accessories with patterns, choose some smaller patterns.

5. Wall-to-wall carpet makes an area look bigger.

6. Try some pictures with deep perspectives; outdoor scenes -- landscapes or seascapes that seem to show miles of space -- add depth to a room.

7. Don't overcrowd a small room; create an impression of space.

8. Use some occasional chairs and some smaller-scale furniture.

Those are just some of the ideas, and for the right selection of furniture for a small room -- or any room -- in your home, stop in. We're here to help you.

Athletes Need Own Physicals

Because the Andover School System will not employ a school physician this year, students participating in the interscholastic program must receive a physical examination from their family doctor prior to the first practice.

Students not receiving an examination in writing before the first practice will be unable to practice until the school has received the completed examination, according to Athletic Director Dick Seifert.

Physical exam forms are available in each school.

Babe Ruth Club Splits Pair

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Babe Ruth 13-15 baseball team, fresh off its sweep of a pair of games in Montreal, Canada, returned to Greater-Lawrence League action last week and split two games.

Andover was beaten by Tower Hill for the second time this summer, 6-4, but then bounced back to outslug Prospect Hill, 11-8.

A third game against South Lawrence West was suspended in the bottom of the fourth inning when tempers flared on both sides. Andover was leading 9-1 at the time, and the contest will be finished at a later date.

The results left Andover at 8-4 in league play and 11-4 overall.

Three of the four losses have come by the margin of one run, one in extra innings, while the other setback was by two runs.

Andover returned to G-L play last night with a key game against North Andover, and tonight the locals face Prospect Hill at Mark Devlin Field (6 p.m.).

Tower Hill, 6-4

The lead changed hands three times as both teams overcame deficits in this seesaw struggle at the Playstead Field.

Righthander Rich Grimm (2-1) pitched well enough to win most games, but defensive lapses once again cost Andover.

Grimm scattered seven hits in his complete-game seven-innings effort, striking out six and walking three. Only one of the Tower Hill runs was earned.

Winning hurler Dave Dion allowed nine hits, walking four and whiffing just one, but the lefthander was tough when he had to be as Andover left nine baserunners stranded.

TH jumped ahead 2-0 in the first when Ken Sirois singled, Brian Toohey and Bill Toohey drew consecutive walks, and Tom Driscoll's infield grounder was booted for a two-run error.

Andover retaliated with an unearned run in the bottom of the first. Leadoff batter Tim Grams reached on an error, stole second, took third on an infield out, and scored when the catcher tried to pick him off and threw the ball into leftfield.

Tower Hill added another tainted run in the second to boost its lead to 3-1.

Glenn McIntyre and Andy Emmert laced singles for Andover in the last of the second, but TH rightfielder Luis Vega pulled his team from a big hole by snagging Rich Grimm's fly and doubling up McIntyre trying to tag and advance to third.

The locals threatened again in the third, leading the bases with two outs when Ed O'Connor walked, Jeff Demers singled and Jake Powell walked. Dion escaped, however, on an infield popout to end the inning.

Andover scored three times in the fourth, sending eight batters to the plate and taking a 4-3 lead.

Grimm led with a walk, and with two outs Jim MacMillan sliced a single to rightfield. Grams followed with an RBI single, Jeff Demers reloaded the bases with a single, and Jon Pelletier put the home team ahead by drilling a solid two-run single to centerfield.

Tower Hill rebounded in the top of the fifth when Bill Toohey reached on a one-out error, Driscoll singled sharply to centerfield, and Dave Fazio lined a two-run double to right-centerfield to make it 5-4.

The visitors added an insurance run in the sixth on singles by Jim Lefebvre and Brian Toohey, followed by an outfield error.

Dion retired the side in order in the fifth and seventh. Matt Wells and Grams singled in the Andover sixth, but that was as far as the threat went.

Grams and Demers led the Andover offense with two hits apiece.

Andover turned over a crisp 5-4-3 doubleplay from Powell to Demers to McIntyre in the seventh.

Andover, 11-8

Andover pushed across three runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, while Glenn McIntyre (3-1) turned in a gutsy pitching effort as the locals outlasted Prospect Hill at Mark Devlin No. 2 Field.

Jim MacMillan started on the mound for Andover, but control problems forced an early exit. It marked the first time in 12 league games this summer that Andover has used a relief pitcher.

McIntyre, working on two days rest after pitching in Montreal the previous weekend, finished the game. He permitted just three earned runs, walked only two and struck out three.

The locals grabbed a brief 2-0 lead in the top of the first. Tim Grams led with a single, stole second, and scored on Jon Pelletier's single. Pelletier took second on the throw home and later crossed on an error.

Prospect Hill came back with three runs in the bottom of the stanza, taking advantage of five walks and two wild pitches to do the damage.

The game then settled down until the fourth, when Andover netted three runs on just one hit (a leadoff single by Pelletier). The locals batted around in the top of the fifth, chalking up three more runs for an 8-3 cushion. Consecutive singles by Jeff Demers, Pelletier and Jake Powell produced a run. Pelletier raced home on an outfield error, and Matt Wells singled in the other marker.

PH, limited to one harmless single over the first four innings by McIntyre, touched the tiring Andover hurler for a pair of runs in the fifth. Mike Geisler walked, Elbie Alba and Mike Panagiotakos singled, and Mike Ferris clouted a double.

The winners struck back for three runs in the top of the sixth, highlighted by McIntyre's two-run double. He later scored the 11th Andover tally on a safety squeeze bunt.

Prospect Hill notched its final three runs in the last of the sixth on RBI singles by Bob D'Urso, Panagiotakos and Ferris. Pelletier prevented further damage when he gunned down Elbie Alba from centerfield, firing a one-hop strike to catcher Andy Emmert who slapped the tag on the sliding runner.

Matt Wells singled and Jim MacMillan slammed a ground-rule double down the rightfield line to open the Andover seventh, but relief pitcher Bob D'Urso escaped with a strikeout and an unusual doubleplay.

PH placed two men on base in the bottom of the seventh, but McIntyre bore down to retire the side and preserve the victory.

Pelletier put together his second 4-for-4 night of the season at the plate, and he also scored three runs. Matt Wells stroked a pair of hits while Jeff Demers, Jake Powell and McIntyre scored two runs apiece.

Matt Wells at shortstop and Jeff Demers at second base were both busy, handling nine and eight chances respectively.

Andover, 9-1

Andover erupted for six runs in the second inning, and Jon Pelletier had allowed just one hit and struck out six when the game with South Lawrence West was suspended in the interests of peace.

Pelletier slammed an RBI double to chase home Tim Grams with the first Andover run in the opening stanza. Jake Powell also lashed a single and Rich Grimm walked, but Mike Curley prevented further trouble with a bases-loaded strikeout.

SLW tied it briefly in the second when Pelletier walked three batters and then uncorked a wild pitch. He also struck out the side in that unusual half inning.

Andover sent 10 batters to the plate in the six-run bottom half of the second. Pelletier rapped a run-scoring single, Powell contributed a two-run single, McIntyre delivered a two-run double, and Rich Grimm added an RBI single.

Andover collected its final two runs in the fourth. Pelletier was safe on an error, Powell was hit in the leg by a pitch, both advanced on a passed ball, and Glenn McIntyre spiked a two-run single to centerfield.

The lone West safety was a two-out opposite-field single by Cal Green in the fourth.

Robbie Wilson made a fine catch in leftfield for Andover.

Little Brown Bats

The little brown bat (Myotis lucifugus) lives all over North America. It makes quick stops and sudden turns to catch insects so that its flight appears weak and wobbly, Massachusetts Audubon notes. It is the most primitive genus of bats; fossils date from 150 million years ago.

"What's Up Doc?" — the Barbara Streisand-Ryan O'Neal comedy is the next in the Monday afternoon movies series at The Haven, July 23. It starts at 1:30 — it's free — and The Haven is air-conditioned!

The next mini-clinic will be held Tuesday, July 24 at Frye Circle. You must call the Andover Board of Health to participate in this free program of health maintenance.

Tuesday afternoon you are invited to join the Line Dancing group. You don't need to know how and you don't need a partner. It's a great fun and good exercise. You can always come and watch, too!

And if you're in the party mood, Wednesday the 25th starts off with a Pot Luck luncheon at noon and then a Christmas-in-July party at 2 o'clock. For the Pot Luck luncheon you are asked to please call The Haven and tell them what you're planning to bring so that a fair balance can be achieved between casseroles, salads and desserts. They'll suggest things you can bring if you can't prepare something — such as rolls and butters or candy and nuts, etc. The phone number is 475-3968 or 475-4165.

Entertainment for the Christmas-In-July party will be provided by The Haven Singers under the expert direction of Helen Robinson. Come join in a rousing chorus of "Jingle Bells." It'll make you feel a lot cooler.

There is still room to include you in the Quincy Market-Faneuil Hall day trip July 30th. The group will leave Andover at 9:30 and return about 3:30. Transportation will cost you $3.50, but anything else you spend will depend upon your own choices. Let The Haven know you want to go along.

The next feature film in the Monday movie series will be "Sinbad and the Eye of the Tiger" starting Patrick Wayne and Taryn Powere — July 30 at 1:30.

On August 2 and 9 Northern Essex Community College is sponsoring a program "Government and Politics — What's It All About?" at The Haven from 1:30 to 3:30. The program is free and will be conducted by Paul Bevilacqua, Chairman, Division of Human Services of Northern Essex. You are invited to bring issues and concerns to the group and share personal experiences.

Sgt. Bliss Receives Army Award

Sgt. Michael J. Bliss, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Bliss, Andover, recently received the 50 Mile Award for participating in the "Run for your Life Program" in Schweinfurt, Germany.

The program is designed to promote physical fitness.

Awards are presented for running from 50 through 10,000 miles.

Bliss, a fire direction computer specialist with the 10th Field Artillery in Schweinfurt, entered the Army in June 1976.

The sergeant is a 1975 graduate of Angelica Central High School in Angelica, N. J.

Mother Church

Guided tours of the Christian Science Church Center, designed by I.M. Pei, at Huntington and Mass. Aves. in Boston are held Monday to Friday, 8 to 4; Saturday, 9 to 4 and Sunday, noon to 4:45, free. Included are the Mother Church, publishing society and mapparium — a stained glass globe visitors can view from within.

It takes great care—and time—to build every Mercedes-Benz to our simple philosophy of:

"The Best or Nothing." But it's worth it. Especially to the person who eventually acquires it.

Larry's Service — Specializing in Wheel Alignment

In these days of gas shortages and rising gas prices, you want the best gas mileage you can get — and there's a factor you may be overlooking — wheel alignment. If the wheels on your vehicle are not aligned properly, they drag and rob you of precious mileage. If you are wise you will have your car's front end realigned at least each year by a specialist. And in this area, that specialist is Larry's Service, 665 Haverhill Street in Lawrence.

To assure best results, Larry's service uses the John Bean Acraliner, especially made for accuracy in wheel alignment. Two factory trained men, Emile Levasseur, Jr. and Tommy Bilodeau, are on hand with full qualification and experience in operating this complex piece of equipment.

The John Bean Acraliner enables them to get complete accuracy with a light beam. Optical measurements from two wheel-mounted precision projectors check both front and rear wheels. Projections on a screen measure castercamber, toe-in, toe-out turns and K.P.I. Then Larry's factory trained men make the necessary adjustments to align your vehicle perfectly. Nothing is left to guesswork or chance — it is aligned perfectly!

When the wheels on your car or truck go out of alignment, turning becomes difficult, the car won't roll and tires wear out rapidly, more reasons to have your wheels aligned. Alignment and front end work are a specialty at Larry's Service. They always have a good stock of parts on hand, so if repair parts are needed, they can supply them on the spot, saving their time and yours.

Larry's expert mechanics do tune-ups on all makes of automobiles, brake work, exhaust work, just about any work your car or truck needs to keep it running smoothly and to give you maximum fuel efficiency.

Larry's Service, an Amoco station, has been owned and operated by Laurent Levasseur for the past 30 years. Offering the same high quality service. Call for an appointment or drive in daily from 7 A.M. to 6 P.M., Saturdays till noon. 665 Haverhill St., Lawrence. Tel. 687-9447.

'Birdie' Production Aug. 2-4

Summer theater comes to the area when the Andover Department of Community Services presents the hit Broadway musical "Bye Bye Birdie" Aug. 2, 3 and 4 at 8 p.m. at the West Elementary School in Andover.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is a bouncy, nostalgic satire of the Fifties complete with an Elvis Presley-type leading character. The Andover production is supported, in part, by the Malden Cooperative Bank's ongoing Cultural Enrichment Program, developed by the bank to provide local residents with a unique opportunity for experiencing quality performances in the arts.

Joan Pearson, director of the department of community services is pleased with the community's participation in the musical to date. "We had a tremendous response during the June tryouts. Over 100 people of all ages turned out to participate as actors, chorus members, or backstage hands. While the show will be professionally done, the goal of this community service program is to initiate and involve those who have little or no experience in the theater as well as the seasoned amateurs."

The production comes under the direction of Anita McDuffie and Brian Smiar and is assisted by the Andover Community Theater. McDuffie, who was instrumental in the establishment of the Andover Community Theater, is the musical director and chief choreographer. Smiar, a former director of theater at Lawrence Academy in Groton, is the director. Cast members include: Mike Chiklis as Conrad Birdie, Sylvia Lewis as Rosie, Dan McDuffie as Albert, Becky Slade as Kim Macafee, Layne DuBose as Mr. Macafee, Jane Vondell as Mrs. Macafee, Tim Donovan as Randolph Macafee, Jane Theberge as Mae Peterson, and Terry Enright as Ursula.

The Malden Cooperative Bank's Cultural Enrichment Program sponsored a day in residence by the Boston Ballet's "Company Too" dancers for all Andover Public School sixth graders and will provide bus transportation enabling Andover grade schoolers to attend youth symphony concerts at Boston's Symphony Hall in the Fall. "We are proud to be associated with the talented people involved in this production both in terms of theater and community service. Cultural enrichment comes in many forms, not the least of which is a production of this caliber and popularity," said Edward Marston, president of the bank.

The original "Bye Bye Birdie" was produced on the Broadway stage by Edward Padula and opened on April 14, 1960 at the Martin Beck Theater in New York.

Tickets for the musical are $3 and are available at the following locations: Thompson's, Cole's Hardware, Liggett-Rexall, and the Department of Community Services. For further information, call the Department at 475-5045.

Not all of the acre-plus of asphalt shingles was due to be replaced on the 10-year-old school building. But much of the roof area was to be redone in an effort to remove the sharp valleys and channels where water collects and ultimately seeps through to the inside.

In winter storms, the contours of the roofs lend themselves to gathering snow, with the accumulated weight expanding roof beams. When the snow begins to melt, the water comes into the building.

Classes were cancelled a few days last winter while workmen cleaned the roofs. The same situation followed storms in 1978.

Architects and engineers were called in this past winter to thoroughly examine the roof and make recommendations as to how best to counteract the problems. The roof was deemed safe by the building safety experts. Lally columns were installed in some sections of the building to shore up areas where snow or water accumulation caused problems.

The particular problem facing the school department now is time. One delay is caused by the necessity of the plans being revised. Further delay comes from the bidding process, which calls for subcontractor proposals and general construction proposals to be accepted for review over a period of time.

Hart described the situation as "most disappointing," indicating there had been hope the work could have been done this summer when the building was unoccupied.

North Reading

continue supplying water on an emergency basis for four months, the longest Andover had ever supplied another community with water.

During that period, a study of North Reading's problems and possible solutions to them were to be explored. The deadline is Aug. 2.

While Clark said he wants to "provide good basic service to Andover and help our neighbors," he said he did not want to become a public utility.

Andover could fall under the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission if a permanent or long-term contract is signed, Clark said. That would mean hiring new staff to do the work the utilities commission would require, he said. "We don't want to hire new staff," he said.

Clark said that Andover over the last 20 years has developed its water system carefully, by expanding the distribution system, gaining access to the Merrimack, purchasing watershed land and building the water filtration plant.

"It's a little too easy for other communities to come to us and say, 'Andover's got the water so we'll let them solve the problems,'" Clark said. "It's a lot easier to help other communities when they help themselves."

"We don't want to become a public utility," he said.

VACATION HOME AND TAXES

If you build or buy a vacation home, you can let it help your annual tax bill and still enjoy it for your family's pleasure. However, with the 1976 tax reform bill, (effective 1/1/77) there have been changes restricting some of the deductions under certain conditions.

For starters — whether you use it for yourself or not, there are always the usual deductions for mortgage interest and property taxes. The interest deduction can be considerable during the early years of the loan.

There are other deductions that also may be taken — just as you would if you owned an apartment house for an investment: depreciation, maintenance, utilities, insurance, etc. In order to take these deductions the total cannot exceed the amount of rental income (less taxes and interest) and the home cannot be occupied by the owner for more than two weeks of 10% of the rental use. However, rents are not taxable if the house is rented less than 15 days.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

PROTECTION

Bring in control of land development permits us to retain, as much as possible, the original contour and protect the natural landscaping. Through engineering and construction of roads, layout of lots, designed and siting of homes we build a neighborhood that is pleasant and comfortable and that protects your investment.

School Survey Funds Not Available

The School Building Assistance Bureau (SBAB) has told the Andover school building committee that it is "highly unlikely" that the SBAB will help pay for a complete survey of the town's school facilities.

They did say, however, that they would help pay for a less complete survey, according to Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark.

The SBAB originally said it would reimburse the town in part if it made a survey according to SBAB guidelines. However, because of new state building constraints, the SBAB said it probably would not participate, according to school building committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper.

If the town does a less complete survey for the purpose of "preparation of preliminary plans," however, the SBAB will help out financially, Clark said.

The survey guidelines set by the state call for a demographic study and a ten-year enrollment projection. Clark said the town is getting a demographic study from the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission (MVPC), but will make only a five-year projection, with estimates beyond that time.

An inventory of all teaching stations as recommended by state guidelines will not be done for all grades. The junior and senior high school stations have already been inventoried, and only the elementary stations remain to be done.

The educational adequacy of the facilities will not be formally investigated. Rather, the school administration will work with the architects to produce adequate facilities.

Non-public schools in the area will not be evaluated as part of the survey.

The grade organizations, how many grades in the elementary, junior and senior high schools, will be explored later.

Clark said the survey will give the school building committee the information it needs, but will not be presented in as polished a form as it would if it were a state report. "All we need is the information," Clark said.

A survey complying with state guidelines would cost $25,000 to $30,000, said Gropper, and the town would have to pay for it by itself.

ding to water superintendent Donald C. Bassett. Drawing up of the final plans and specifications for the project are expected to within a day or two, the project being funded by a $124,000 grant from the federal government.

Selection of a new town manager is near, according to Chairman Robert A. Watters of the board of selectmen. The board has narrowed the field to two candidates and is in the process of making final evaluation. The manager post has been empty since Richard J. Bowen resigned in April.

The West Elementary School addition is beginning to take shape.

Candidates' Deadline Is Monday

Persons interested in being considered for the school committee seat vacated by Casimir Kolaski, may do so by Monday.

All candidates will be interviewed by a joint session of the school committee and selectmen July 30, and the choice being made Aug. 2.

The new committeeman will serve until next spring's election.

THE CQ FACTOR

In this impatient generation, short-cuts to success are common goals. Using this make-it-quick technique, some succeed, some do not. At Towne Deli we are old fashion . . . we believe in getting there via the long haul, the no-short-cut route.

To accomplish the latter, we constantly apply the CQ Factor and require all of our employees to be so guided. Care and Quality from the management, the cooks, our counter people, everyone! Attentive, pleasant service. No prepared foods doctored up to appear home-made. All of our food is home-made, using only the highest quality food products. The taste will tell you this is so.

Offering a superb menu from sandwiches to complete dinners at reasonable prices and served in the pleasant atmosphere of our airy dining room or outdoor patio . . . Towne Deli has to fit into your "eating out" plans this week and every week!
